CZ 200 S HUNTER

This popular PCP rifle comes in a new design

For sporting and leisure time shooters Česká zbrojovka offers in its portfolio excellent PCP rifles of the CZ 200 line, which are also supplied with wide range of accessories.

The CZ 200 S Hunter is based on time-proven the CZ 200 S model, the improvements of which are projected into this new model superseding the previous design in PCP rifles line. The fundamental change, visible at first sight is the new shape of the stock outfitted with cheekpiece. The stock is responding to the shooters requirements, be it for hunting purposes or those who prefer target shooting.

This PCP rifle is made in 4,5 a 5,5 mm calibers having max. muzzle energy of 16J. New model again uses characteristically compact breech action. All users will certainly appreciate increased capacity of pressurised air cylinder enabling now to shoot 150 shots. This new model as well as those previous ones can be characterised by outstanding accuracy, consistent velocity and minimum of felt recoil. When using a scope, the zeroing is held for an exceptionally long time. And with employment of five or ten shot magazines you will be soon addicted to this model.
